

Product Care Information

Thank you for your purchase! With proper care, your new mat will be ready to enhance all of your outdoor adventures. While incredibly durable, there are a few things that are required to prolong the life of your mat:

Do's:

- Always roll your mat to store it.
- Depending on how heavily soiled the mat is, you can either shake or blow it off, clean it using a terry cloth rag, rinse it off using a garden hose, or you can use a small (1700psi or less) electric pressure washer equipped with a wide angle 45 degree (green-colored) tip while keeping the tip at least 12 inches away from the surface of the mat.
- Only use water to clean your mat... the use of detergents is not necessary and may damage the mat.
- Hanging the mat up will facilitate the fastest dry time. Just be sure to NOT drape your mat over anything that has a hard edge as that may cause a crease to form in the mat.
- Be aware of the surface that you are placing your mat on. Rough or sharp objects such as gravel WILL damage the mat.
- Storing your mat short-term while still damp (ie. when transporting it) is okay. However, unroll it ASAP to completely dry it before storing long-term.

Don'ts:

- Never fold the mat or otherwise create creases in the mat such as, overtightening storage straps or placing objects on top of a rolled up mat. Doing so will cause damage to the mat in the form of permanent creases.
- Never store your mat long-term if it isn't COMPLETELY dry!
- Never remove the corner hold-down stakes from the ground by lifting up on the mat itself. This will destroy the structural integrity of the mat around the grommet.

Inhabit Design Works is an American-owned and operated business based in Portland, Oregon. We pride ourselves on producing top-notch, high-quality products that are composed mainly of materials that are made in the U.S.A. InhabitDesignWorks.com

